The WorkSource – Who Are We?

The WorkSource is a public/private partnership providing a comprehensive human resource service for businesses and residents of the 13-county Houston-Galveston Gulf Coast region.

The WorkSource helps employers solve workforce-related business problems and area residents build careers, so that both can better compete in the changing worldwide economy.

The WorkSource is funded by state and federal tax dollars that are redirected back into the Gulf Coast region. We do not charge for our services.

In 2005, The WorkSource served 19,334 businesses by recruiting, screening and referring candidates to fill 34,942 openings; by providing current economic and labor market data, outplacement services for 5,289 workers from 61 companies, and labor market data and human resource consulting.

Through its region-wide network of local offices, last year The WorkSource registered more than 369,630 job-seeking residents, directly placing 50,700 in jobs. We also helped 27,279 Hurricane Katrina and Rita evacuees. To help area residents build their careers, The WorkSource provided more than $102 million in financial aid to customers for education, child care and work-related needs.

- Our Employer Service Division provides personalized service to help employers find qualified applicants for their jobs, build the skills and expertise of their new and current employees, and address human resource needs.
- We operate 36 community-based career offices to help residents get a job, keep a job or get a better job – offering placement, career counseling and financial aid services.
- We partner with the region's businesses, educational institutions, civic organizations and community leaders to find solutions to current and future labor needs of industries that are vital to the region and its economy.
- As part of the statewide Texas Workforce Solutions network, we partner with the Texas Workforce Commission and other workforce boards in the largest job-matching database in the state – WorkInTexas.com.
