

Building the Highly Effective Organization – The Series

Coping with Change in a Corporate Environment

Managing Change – Series #8

What does coping with change have in common with building a highly effective organization?

Does your organization embrace change or run from it?

Austin Tenette will develop the steps you should take to involve your entire organization to build a stronger organization capable of embracing change in an ever-changing business world. In this series you will learn the importance of building stronger teams that can handle change in any environment.

- What mechanisms can you use to cope with change?
- Understanding the importance of personal resiliency.
- Does the struggle to understand and implement change make us stronger?

Thursday, August 5, 2021 - 10:00 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.
